THURMAN SPEAKS.

If Unanimously Nominated He Will Run.

Party Interests Greater than His Own.

Willing to Make a Personal Sacrifice.

Significant Interview with "The Noblest Roman."

SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.

COLUMBUS, O., June 2,-The Republic has the following interview with Judge Thur-

Reporter-The whole country is clamoring for Thurman for Vice-President, and what are you going to do about that?

Judge Thurman-Well, I hardly know. It would not be very proper in one to decline a thing that had not been tendered him. For years I have tried to be left alone here with my wife in this den (speaking of the library) and these friends or mine on these shelves, but somehow they won't permit me to live in peace.

Reporter-If the nomination is given you. even against your protest, would not you feel that my name would add any strength to the ticket I am willing to make a personal sacrifice for the interests of the party. I certainly should feel very bad, should the ticket be defeated, to think that I had declined if my name would have strengthened it. Of course, it is only upon the condition that the nomination comes without any struggle that I can accept.

JUDGE THURMAN WILL ACCEPT.

Mr. Powell, of Ohio, Will Present His Name for the Vice-Presidency. [SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.]

St. Louis, June 2.-Mr. T. E. Powell delegate-at-large from Ohio, and several other friends of Mr. Thurman, held a conrance last night with him at Columbus.

The conference ended with the understanding that Mr. Powell shall present Mr. Thurman's name to the Convention for Vice President. In fact, Mr. Powell has authority to place Mr. Thurman in nomination. Mr Thurman has decided to accept if the nomi nation is tendered unanimously.

He said to Mr. Powell : "I am reluctant to permit the use of my name, and would much prefer the nomination of another. Of course I can sanction no scamble for the nomination nor will I permit the use of my name in case of a contest.

It has been represented to me that by going on the ticket with Mr. Cleveland, 1 can strengthen the cause of the Democracy and add to the certainty of its success. I do not know how this may be; others must judge, as to that; but if my candidacy will make sure the triumph of the Democracy in the coming contest. I am ready and willing to sacrifice the case and quietude that I have been enjoying for the activity and turmoil of the cam-

There is no time in a man's life when it is not his duty to serve his country, and he who sids the Democratic party to success this year performs the highest and most patriotic duty that a citizen owes to the public and the cause of good government.

Mr. Thurman may attend the convention. He has been invited by the Jackson Club, of Columbus, to accompany them here, and has the invitation now under consideration.

A Pale Young Clerk Turns Highwayman, John Miller, a tall, sitm young German in eyeglasses, employed as a clerk in this city, was arraigned in the Jefferson Market Court this morning raigned in the Jefferson Market Court this morning for higaway robbery. The complainant was Joneph Boyle, an electric-wire lineman, of 204 East Twalty-ninth street. He said that at 11.30 instituent he was going through Thirty-second street, when he was confronted by Milier, who placed a platel close to his breast and demanded his money. Boyle ran off and Officer Thompson captured Milier. The prisoner said be needed money to return to Germany and was desperate. He was held for trial.

I presume there is no doubt of his ability to carry New York, which is a great point to begin with.

"There is, however, the very serious question to be cons dered in his candidacy whether the sins of all the railroads of the country shall be visited upon him.

"I don't know that the business men of New York who are for Mr. Depew know the feeling which prevails with the agriculturalists of the West against railroad influences, but they must be considered.

"You know." he continued, "that I am firm in the belief that any good Justice of the Peace is good enough for President.

"I homestly believe and am gratified to say that I think John Sherman will be the caudidate. He will go into the convention with over three hundred of the necessary 411 votes.

'Should Sherman not be nominated I think the ticket will be Ben Harrison, of Indiana, and William Walter Phelps, of New Jersey. The argument which will place them in front is that they represent States which they can carry and which Blaine lost in 1884."

JERSEY CITY'S BIG FOUR.

Two of Them on Ball, and One Who Insist Upon Going to Jall.

The Court-House on Jersey City Heights seemed to hold half the politicians of Hudson County this morning, all interested in the fate of the indicted "Big Four" of the Board of Works of 1887. Ex-Commissioner Reynolds and Commissioner Watt had been arrested early in the morning. Each pleaded not guilty, and furnished the $5,000 bail fixed by Judge Lippincott.

Commissioner Pearl C. Hilliard made Commissioner Pearl C. Hilliard made a scene when he arrived. Spying District-Attorney Winfield in the court-room he immediately began to talk to him about drawing up legal papers in connection with his wife's extensive property. When he finished, he exclaimed: "Now, look me up, Charley."

"Don't be foolish," answered Mr. Winfield. "Where are your bondsmen?"

"I haven't apy," said Hilliard, "and want to be put in juil."

No amount of argument would induce him to send out for bail, and he is still in Sheriff Davis's office surrounded by persistent friends.

IS A DENTIST A MECHANIC?

The Question Which Is Brought Up Over Jersey City Office.

Building Inspector O'Neill, of Jersey City. was ousted from his office by the Board of Aldermen last Tuesday and James C. Clarke, a prominent dentist, appointed in his place.
This morning, when Clarke prepared to take possession of the office, O'Neill refused to vacate, claiming that Clarke, being a dentist, was not eligible under the law which sets forth that the Building Inspector must be a mechanic. He will hold the fort and take the matter into the courts.

Mayor Hewitt did not reach his office to-day until 100n. Whether he had read the statements made by Coroner Lovy yesterday, and printed in this morning's papers, with reference to his veracity, or not, he did not say, but his appearance and manner were extinemely forbiding when he was asked it be had any hing to say about the Coroner's denial of some statements alleged to have been made by him.

"I have no controversy with Coroner Levy that I am aware of," he said, and added very decidedly,
"and I have nothing whatever to say in reply to any statements that he may make. Good morning, sir."

Kerr's Jury Do Not Agree and Kerr Goes Out on Bail.

The Weakness of the Prosecution Said to Be the Cause.

Well-Presented Evidence More Effective Than Brilliant Addresses - Kerr Furnishes $50,000 Bull-The Jury Steed Eight to Four for Conviction at the Start and Did Not Change-Will There Be a New Trial?

The jury in the trial of Thomas B. Kerr came in at 10.38 this morning, having been out since 7.02 on Thursday evening. They announced to the Court that they were unable to agree upon a verdict, and stated that there had been no change in their ballots since the first one, taken immediately after they retired.

Justice Patterson discharged the jury immediately. This denouement to the trial of Kerr is the subject of general comment among the lawyers and others who have heard the trial. Ira Shafer's comment is a typical one. He says "they had evidence enough against Kerr to convict a thousand men." And he adds thoughtfully: "Col. Fellows's speech to the jury was a strong one-but after all it's evidence, not oratory, that sways a jury. They should make up their minds when the evidence is all in, and generally do, without regard to what the counsel or the Judge the evidence is all in, and generally do, without regard to what the counsel or the Judge says."

The result is looked upon as another in the long series of failures which have attended Col. Fellows since his elevation to the District-Attorneyship.

Col. William F. Shaffer, Dr. Samuel Hall, Harrison D. Kerr and Chauncey F. Kerr, brothers and the son of the defendant, surrounded him in court this morning, and all were in a cheerful frame of mind, and they were not at all surprised at the result, while Bourke Cockran and exJudge Davis expressed themselves as perfectly satisfied, as the result was reached by letting the case go to the jury on the testimony of the prosecution undisputed.

Col. Fellows evidently feit his defeat keenly. His voice was very subdued and trembling as he addressed the Court, saying he was content with any bail which the Court might accept. His face was drawn and filled with discouragement.

Justice Patterson fixed bail at $50,000.

Bail Clerk William E. Penny wrote a bail bond for Thomas B. Kerr shortly after Court adjourned, and Kerr's bro hers, Harrison D. Kerr and Chauncey F. Kerr, became his bondsmen. He went directly to his home.

Col. Fellows was unable to say when the trial of Kerr would be moved again, and could not tell when another boodle case would be tried. He refused to talk to reporters.

Foreman Cornelius Howland, George M.

Col. Fellows was unable to say when the trial of Kerr would be moved again, and could not tell when another boodle case would be tried. He refused to talk to reporters.

Foreman Cornelius Howland. George M. Huntington, No. 5; Paul Hahn, No. 9, and James Dooman, No. 11, voted for acquittal at the start. The others were for conviction. There were frequent ballots during the thirty-mine and one-half hours the jury were out, but no change occurred.

When the first rays of morning sunshine stole through the big window in the east wing of the Court-House it lighted up the faces and forms of twelve haggard and dishevelled jurymen and a trio of hollow-eyed court officers.

Such was the condition of the Kerr jury and the jailers after thirty-six hours of fruitless contention. For two days and nights they had argued and delibers ed in vain.

There was no rest for them, and pillows and sheets were a dream of the past. They were, indeed, so far as the necessa ies of life were concerned, in a far worse plight than the criminals awaiting trial in the Tombs.

But Kerr, the millionaire defendant, had fared better. He had been "in charge," to be sure, but his keepers, Under Sherid Sexton and Order of Arrest Clerk Barney Martin, are first-rate companions, and Kerr had been permitted to be with his very sick wife and his family most of the time, and slept in his own bed both nights.

The long deliberation of the jury presaged a disagreement at least, and with the probabilities in favor of the idea that those for acquittal would be most likely to win over those who would convict, on the theory that it is better to err by setting free a guilty man than in sending an innocent one to prison.

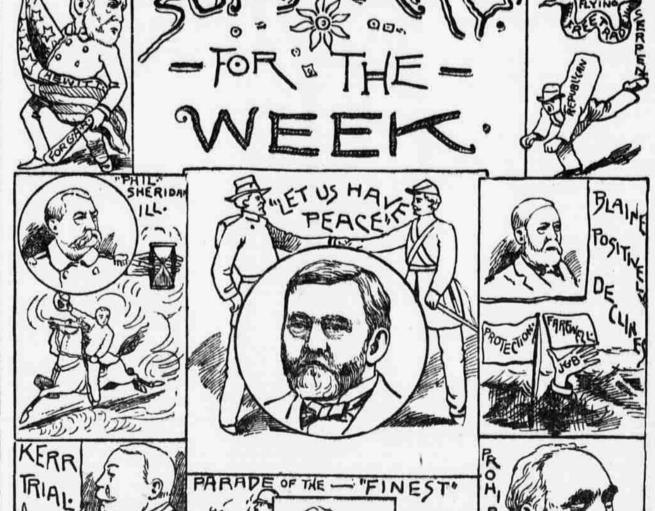

And so ex-Alderman and Treasurer Kerr was cheerful, and indeed almost complacent. Not so Bourke Cockran. He had set his mark at an acquittal, He is young to the profession of law, and he hoped to blossom as one of the brightest flowers in the New York legal garden He was not cheerful.

And John H. Bird, the round-faced, jolly member of Kerr's co man had written his when I rapped at the door.

"It saved the man's life. The twelfth man never dropped the ballot, and it was for hanging. He had got tired. The jury went back and decided on the second degree on the next ballot. No. 12 told me afterwards."

"Yes, I shall break the engagement," she said folding her arms and looking defiant; "it is really loo much trouble to converse with him; he's a deaf as a post and talks like he had a mouthful o much. Bosides, the way he hawks and spits is dis-guating. "Don't break the engagement for that, tell him to take Da. Sage's Carakan Ramedy. I will care him completely." "Well, I'll tell him I do hate to break it off, for in all other respec-tively distributions of the course, it cured his catarrh."

Dr. De Mein's Long Imprisonment for No Offense.

Honorably Acquitted After Three Weeks' Hardship.

Accused of Manslaughter in a Case That Appears to Be an Accident, He Doce Not Even Get a Hearing After His Lawyer Demands It-Coroner Nagent Takes Up the Case This Afternoon.

Dr. Charles De Mein, the Superintendent of the lodging-house at 450 Third avenue, who has been in the Fifty-seventh Street Jail since May 11, when he was committed to await the result of injuries to Anthony B. Fisher, who charged De Mein with having violently ejected him from his house, was brought before Coroner Nugent this after-Asst. Corporation Counsel Henry B. Twombley to see that the prisoner obtains justice.

Mr. Twombley said to-day that he notified the Coroner's office last Friday that Fisher had died, and he desires that the case should be brought up at once, in order that De Main might be given his liberty.

He expected the case to be called early this week, but after several days' delay he went again to the Coroners' office yesterday and found that no Coroner had been informed of the case, and he at once brought it to the personal attention of Coroner Nugent, who ordered an investigation to be made.

De Moin says that he used no force to eject Fisher from the house. The man went out of his own accord when told that he could not have accommodations and fell on the sidewalk after going down the steps.

His injury was not a serious one, and his death was due solely to the effects of intemperance, for he was seized with an ettack of delirium tremens almost as soon as he reached the hospital.

At the Coroner's office no explanation could be given of the failure to bring the case up when the notification was given last week except that the Coroner had so many cases to attend to that he could not have reached this particular one before.

Dr. De Mein was brought before Coroner
